Plan>

1. Gather a supply of Lego or other building blocks.

Do>

1. Divide all of the blocks evenly between the Patrols.
2. Ask each Patrol to build a tower with a one minute limit. Ask Patrols not to think about where the pieces go - just grab each block and join them together wherever there is space as fast as possible. After one minute, take a picture of each structure.
3. Separate the blocks ready for another attempt.
4. Ask each Patrol to repeat the activity but instead take their time and give some thought. Figure how the blocks will fit together to be stable and nice to look at. When each Patrol has used up all of their blocks, take another picture.

Review>

1. Discuss with the Unit if they would like to live in a city which has grown with no thought, or where every development is planned to give the best outcome for everyone?
2. What did you learn?
3. What would you do differently next time?
