PREFACE

The Scout Association of Australia was inaugurated on 15 December 1958 and was subsequently incorporated by a Royal Charter granted by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II on 17 October 1967.

The Association functions in accordance with the provisions of the Royal Charter and By-Laws.

Policy and Rules (P&R) has been adopted by the National Council of The Scout Association of Australia in accordance with the Royal Charter, as a statement of policy and practice for the conduct of Scouting in Australia and is binding on all Formations, members and supporters of the Movement.

There are two main parts. One part, deals with matters of policy, the second part provides rules for the practice of Scouting in Australia. It is recognised that the distinction between a 'policy' and a 'rule' is sometimes difficult to make.

Each Branch of The Scout Association of Australia functions in accordance with its constitution and By-Laws, and shall prescribe such further policy and rules, not inconsistent with those contained in this manual, as required for the organisation and practice of Scouting within the Branch.

SUPPLEMENTARY POLICY DOCUMENTS

Various other National Policies are provided as separate documents on the Scouts Australia website under Key Resources.

POLICY

P1 PRINCIPLES

P1.1 OVERVIEW

1. The Principles of Scouting, as identified by the Founder, are that Scouts should serve God, act in consideration of the needs of others and develop and use their abilities to the betterment of themselves, their families, and the community in which they live.
2. These three principles are characterised for all members of the Movement as “Duty to God”, “Duty to others” and “Duty to self”.

P1.2 DUTY TO GOD

1. The policy of the Scout Movement, which includes members with many different spiritual beliefs, is that all members should develop their relationship with the spiritual values of life by adhering to their spiritual principles, whilst respecting the spiritual choices of others.
2. The educational approach of the Movement includes helping young people to develop their spiritual beliefs and search for the spiritual values of life.
3. The privilege of adult leadership carries with it the obligation of encouraging the spiritual growth of youth members so that they may gain a deeper understanding of their spiritual beliefs as they progress through the Movement.
4. The growing spiritual relationship can be encouraged through the Youth Program and by the regular use of carefully selected reflections, prayers and other activities for everyday Scouting occasions.
5. Members who identify with a religion should be encouraged to attend services of their religion.
6. A gathering of members of the Movement, known as a Scouts' Own, may be held for the purposes of exploring spiritual beliefs and to promote fuller realisation of the Scout Promise and Law.
7. “Duty to God” refers to a person’s relationship with spiritual values. Scouts Australia upholds the Principle of “Duty to God” through facilitating development of one’s “Spiritual Beliefs”.

P1.3 DUTY TO OTHERS

Members are active global citizens, displaying loyalty, friendship, understanding and co-operation at local, national and international levels. This is achieved through responsibilities to families and communities, active participation in service to others, recognising and respecting the rights of others, and preservation of the environment.

P1.4 DUTY TO SELF

Members have a responsibility to explore and develop confidence and self-respect, and seek to develop to their full potential through life-long learning.

P1.5 PROGRAM FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF YOUTH

The Youth Program will:

1. Provide opportunities for personal growth in the areas of physical, emotional, intellectual, spiritual, values and social development; personal and group relationships; community and environmental responsibility.
2. Develop a sense of achievement amongst young people through membership in small friendship and interest groupings.
3. Provide challenging and appealing activities for these groupings, designed to meet the needs and capacities of the members.
4. Through these activities:
 - a. Promote health and fitness.
 - b. Promote knowledge of, and experience in, the local and wider community.
 - c. Promote appreciation of, and experience in, the outdoor environment.
 - d. Provide opportunities for, and training in, community service and environmental education.
 - e. Provide for, and encourage individual hobbies, interests and skills, and through them, a sense of individual achievement.

P1.6 ASSOCIATION VALUES

P1.6.1 Overview of Values

Given that the Purpose of The Scout Association of Australia is to encourage the physical, intellectual, emotional, social and spiritual development of young people, it is realised that the future of our society is vested in each successive generation, and the values that they inherit.

P1.6.2 Child Protection & Safe from Harm

The Scouts Australia Child Protection Policy sets the Policy, Procedures and minimum Standards that all Members in Scouting must abide by when living Scouting. In addition, the following provision apply:

1. Duty of Care and Safe from Harm

Policy P2 and Rule R12 specify Scouts Australia's policy relating to Duty of Care, and its rules for safe practice.

2. Rights of the Child

Scouts Australia recognises that children, because of their vulnerability, need special care and protection, and it has a non-formal educational program which respects their rights, and takes full account of their best interests. The Scouting program provides guidance appropriate to the child's evolving capacities and recognises their right to express an opinion, and to have it taken into account.

3. Respect for Others

Scouting encourages respect for others, and the dignity of individuals. Adults in Scouting provide an environment where young people feel safe and secure, and free from personal and verbal harassment/abuse. Scouts Australia takes a positive attitude towards encouraging youth members to be able to recognise situations which may lead to abuse; to be able to assert the right to resist the abuser; and to report abuse with confidence.

4. Personal Standards

Scouts Australia encourages respect for other people, expects its members to demonstrate high personal standards, both in language and actions and to refrain from swearing and using profane, indecent, rude, insulting or abusive language and under no circumstances condone the use of inappropriate action, including initiations at Scouting meetings and activities.

5. Privacy

Adults in Scouting must respect everyone's right to personal privacy at all times, including their personal space and private information.

P1.6.3 Health

1. Smoking

Scouts Australia expects leaders and other adult members and supporters to set a positive example by not smoking in the presence of youth members. Smoking by youth members under the legal age is prohibited on all Association property, and at all Association activities.

2. Alcohol

Scouts Australia regulates the consumption of alcohol at Association activities and on its property, through Branch rules. Adults in Scouting are dedicated to the welfare of young people and will comply with Branch rules for the consumption of alcohol.

Scouts Australia guide young people towards the development of an informed and responsible attitude towards alcohol, through the example and guidance of the adults who accept leadership roles in the Movement.

3. Drugs

Scouts Australia guide young people towards the development of an informed and responsible attitude towards legally available and illegal drugs, through the example and guidance of the adults who accept leadership roles in the Movement. Scouting condemns any form of substance abuse and reminds its members that Adults in Scouting are dedicated to the welfare of young people. Scouting is aware of peer pressure, which is a primary influence on young people, and prohibits the presence and illegal use of drugs at all Scouting meetings and activities, and on all Association property.

4. Sexual Hygiene

Scouts Australia's training program is based on the progressive development of members through childhood, adolescence and adulthood. Healthy sexual attitudes and sexual hygiene are important aspects of personal development, and in this context, they form part of Scouts Australia's role. Scouts Australia recognises that training in these matters is primarily a family responsibility, but there are occasions on which advice and guidance from leaders is of benefit to individual members.

P1.6.4 Earning Your Way

1. Employment

Scouts Australia encourages members of the Movement to seek satisfying employment in accordance with the individual's ability and interests. It recognises that lack of employment contributes to loss of self-esteem in young people, and its youth training program encourages members to develop a positive attitude towards constructive and responsible citizenship, including employment.

2. Social Security

Scouts Australia recognises that some members of the Movement will inevitably have to rely on Social Security payments due to unemployment or invalidity. The Scout Program is designed to enhance one's self-esteem and confidence, to assist such members in finding satisfying employment, and to provide sympathetic support pending such an outcome.

3. Gambling

Scouts Australia recognises that gambling, in one form or another, is part of the fabric of Australian society, and does not wish to impose restrictions on members beyond those imposed by community standards or the Law. However, Scouts Australia accepts its responsibility to members of the Movement to develop a responsible attitude towards excessive gambling or undesirable gambling practices.

P1.6.5 Environment

Scouts Australia endorses the practice of educating members of the Movement in environmental values as part of its program and practices, and by promoting the Australian Scout Environment Charter within the Movement. (See Appendix 1 - Rules).

P1.6.6 Spirituality

Spirituality refers to the feelings or beliefs of a person regarding their purpose in life, connection to others and place in the world around them. These spiritual feelings or beliefs may change as a person develops and guide their actions throughout their life.

P1.6.7 Diversity and Inclusion

1. Scouts Australia is inclusive of all (within the scope of its membership) regardless of gender, sexuality, race, spiritual beliefs, abilities or socioeconomic status and does not tolerate any form of harm, abuse, exclusion or neglect. Scouts Australia embraces the diversity of its community, aiming to reflect this diversity through its policies and practices, and provide inclusion that ensures access to Scouting for all.

2. This Policy (and any related procedures) applies to all Members of Scouts Australia, Adult Helpers & Supporters, Employees, as well as Young People and other community members who may participate in Scout activities from time to time.

3. Specialist groups

Scouts Australia encourages and supports inclusion of people from all cultural and spiritual backgrounds and abilities in mainstream, existing Scout Groups. However, there is provision for Specialist Groups that meet particular cultural, spiritual or disability support needs of their members, providing those groups remain open to all youth members.

4. People with Disability

Scouts Australia provides for the admission of young people with physical, mental, intellectual, neurological or sensory impairments as members of regular Scout Groups, or as members of Specialist Groups. Scouts Australia will endeavour to provide reasonable adjustments to enable participation of people with disability on an equal basis as others.

5. Gender

Scouts Australia is open to all, regardless of gender identity, and gender diversity is supported and respected. Genders are integrated for the delivery of the youth program in all sections to achieve the goal of promoting equality, mutual acceptance, understanding and respect. Some activities may be conducted in gender-specific groups, where this is necessary for cultural or spiritual reasons.

6. Financial hardship

Scouts Australia recognises that membership of the Movement incurs a cost to members and their families. Scouts Australia's policy is that membership should not be denied on the basis of financial hardship or the inability of a member or potential member to meet the cost associated with participation in the Scout Program.

P1.6.8 Obligation to Parents and Guardians

Scouts Australia has the following obligations to the parents and guardians of youth members:

1. To ensure high quality Scouting is offered to members.

APPENDIX 1: THE AUSTRALIAN SCOUT ENVIRONMENT CHARTER

A Scout cares for the environment by:

- Protecting and improving biodiversity

Scouts protect biodiversity by caring for plants, animals and their habitat. They make sure their adventures in the outdoors only have positive impacts on the variety of ecosystems they visit. Scout campsites and properties are managed so existing wildlife habitat is protected and degraded habitat is restored.

- Living sustainable lives by taking action to reduce negative impacts

Scouts aim to reduce their environmental footprint by acting to reduce, reuse and recycle waste, and minimise use of energy and water at scouting events and in their daily lives. Scouts support healthy environments by reducing the risk from harmful substances, minimising the use of non-renewable resources, embrace sustainable energy technologies and protecting our clean air and water.

- Learning about the environment and inspiring others

Scouts join their communities in activities that encourage life-long learning about the environment. Scouts develop innovative education activities and inspire others to be involved with their journey to take care of our environment.

- Thinking global acting local

Scouts adapt their activities at a local level to minimise impacts that change the Earth's natural processes. Scouts are creating a better world through activities that tackle our environmental, social and economic challenges. They will develop strategies to be prepared for changes in weather conditions that will occur due to climate change.

- Enjoying and connecting

Scouts take time to enjoy the environment through passive or active pursuits. They develop connections to the environment with its beauty, drama and excitement.
